

【Shenzhen】 The art of fragrance Emotional therapy through DIY creation!

INKOMOR Fragrance DIY Studio is an art therapy DIY studio. It is gently scented with natural essential oils, and its walls are adorned with illustrations of fragrance knowledge and photographs of customer creations. Here, stress is relieved and the body and mind are restored to a normal state through DIY experiences.

Participants can choose 3 to 5 base ingredients from over 50 types of single note essential oils. Under the guidance of an instructor, they can blend their own scent and pour the essence into a mosaic-textured glass bottle decorated with dried flowers, making their creation truly one of a kind. During the process, the instructor will explain how fragrance can regulate emotions, such as citrus to lift the spirits or cedarwood to ease anxiety. Blending your own fragrance requires full focus at every step, allowing worries to fade away without you even realising it.

The creative process is emotionally healing and enhances appreciation of living aesthetics. This experience is suitable for participants seeking quiet time alone or planning to create something together with close friends. After completing the fragrance, participants will have a unique scented souvenir and a small card to record the fragrance recipe. The studio also offers other DIY projects such as succulent micro-landscapes and scented plant wax tablets, perfect for city dwellers who love immersing themselves in the world of nature and fragrance.
