

MTR Continues to Show Support for Hong Kong Athletes; Life-long Unlimited Free Rides Offered to all Medallists
at Tokyo Olympic Games

Cheers to all of the Hong Kong athletes competing at the Tokyo 2020 Olympic Games! In celebration of their remarkable performances, the MTR Corporation will offer life-long unlimited free rides to all medallists, including gold medallist fencer Mr Cheung Ka-long, who won in the men's individual foil, and also Ms Siobhan Haughey, silver medallist in the 200m women's freestyle. A year of free rides will be offered for other Hong Kong athletes who are participating in the Games. Meanwhile, 100,000 free domestic rides will also be offered via MTR Mobile to share the joy with the city. The Corporation expresses its heartfelt congratulations to the team and wishes every success in achieving more outstanding results in their remaining events.

"We are all proud of the Hong Kong athletes for their perseverance and the high morale they have displayed in the Games," said Dr Jacob Kam, Chief Executive Officer of MTR Corporation. "The Corporation hopes to show support and encouragement to the team by offering them free MTR rides. This is our way to express our appreciation to the athletes, and we wish them all the best as they strive to create another historical sporting moment for Hong Kong."

Details of the arrangement for the 100,000 free domestic single journey rides to share the joy of the triumphs with the city will be announced in due course.

Over the years, the Corporation has been supporting local athletes in various aspects. Since 2013, we have cooperated with the Sports Federation & Olympic Committee of Hong Kong, China in the Hong Kong Athletes Career and Education Programme to provide life-skills training for retired and retiring athletes, or those transitioning out of their sporting careers, to strengthen their skills that are applicable to the workplace. Hundreds of local athletes from different sports have benefited from the training since the programme was launched.
