

Brand New Stationery Collections Featuring Classic MTR Tickets and Station Facilities Go On Sale Today

The evolution of MTR trains, facilities and train tickets encapsulate many unique stories of the people in Hong Kong and their MTR journeys. To offer customers a time-travelling journey, MTR Corporation is collaborating with Tiny, a Hong Kong toys and models brand, to launch the MTR x Tiny Stationery Collection featuring train tickets from different eras from today onwards (1 December 2021). Besides, the Corporation will also roll out the MTR 2-in-1 Station Facilities Stationery Collection incorporating the design of past and present station facilities for public sale on 11 December 2021.

Priced from HK$18 to HK$48, the MTR x Tiny Stationery Collection items consist of folders, card holders, magnets, stickers and magnet keychains with designs showing the evolution and development of MTR tickets and trains dating back to the commencement of service in 1979 (please refer to Annex for details). Amongst these items, the magnet keychains are sold in blind bags. Customers can have a surprise when they unveil the style of different nostalgic MTR train tickets and may have chance to get an unknown special version.

In addition, the newly launched 2-sided stationery collection named “MTR 2-in-1 Station Facilities” presents miniature designs of MTR station facilities from the past and present. Priced at HK$140 each, the collection includes:

- a ticket machine-designed memo pack plus eraser dispenser
- an entry/exit gate-designed tape dispenser plus stapler
- a train compartment-designed USB hub with magnetic bench, and
- a customer service centre-designed electric pencil sharpener

Moreover, an automatic platform gate-designed wireless charger with mini whiteboard, priced at HK$260, allows users to decorate the “advertising panel” with their own personalised message.

“MTR trains, tickets and every facility in our stations have become an integral part of passengers' everyday lives. We are thrilled to launch these nostalgic items appealing to our railway fans and collectors who grew up together with us. We also hope that these items can connect the young generation with our memories of the old days when they use the stationery,” said Ms Jeny Yeung, Hong Kong Transport Services Director of MTR Corporation.

The MTR x Tiny Stationery Collection is available for purchase from today onwards on MTR Mobile app, the MTR website (www.mtr.com.hk) and Tourist Services at Admiralty Station while stocks last.
