Airport Express Offers Eight Promotions for Various Passengers New Fares Effective from 22 June with Promotions Free Rides for Children and 50% Off for JoyYou Card Holders

With summer approaching, the Airport Express will introduce free rides for children aged 3 to 11 using Child Octopus during the summer holiday, and half-price fares on Airport Express for JoyYou Card holders exclusively for over six months starting from 22 June 2025. In total, there will be eight promotions covering various passenger groups, benefiting local residents and tourists to enjoy a reliable and comfortable Airport Express service between the city and the airport with greater ease and convenience.

Since its opening in 1998, the Airport Express has provided passengers with fast, safe and reliable train services to and from the Hong Kong International Airport. This summer, the eight promotions of Airport Express (See Appendix 1) aim to accommodate various passenger needs, including those meeting or seeing off others, as well as travelers heading abroad.

These special free rides for children and half-price fares for JoyYou Card holders on Airport Express will take effect on 22 June 2025, alongside the new Airport Express fares (See Appendix 2). From 22 June to 31 August 2025, children aged 3 to 11 can enjoy free rides on the Airport Express by using a Child Octopus to travel between the Airport and urban stations (Hong Kong, Kowloon or Tsing Yi stations). From 22 June 2025 to 4 January 2026, JoyYou Card holders (Hong Kong residents aged 60 or above) can enjoy half-price fares for trips between the Airport and urban stations.

Another highlight is the extension of Airport Express Group Tickets (available for groups of two, three, or four passengers), with the discounted prices remaining unchanged for over six months until 4 January 2026. The discount offers savings of up to 42% off, which provides an even more attractive option for families and friends traveling together (See Appendix 3).

To facilitate both local residents and visitors travelling conveniently to AsiaWorld-Expo for major events, the Airport Express will continue to offer Special Same Day Return fare promotion¹. Adult passengers using the same Octopus to travel round-trip between urban stations and AsiaWorld-Expo Station can enjoy discounted fares as low as HK$53, averaging only HK$26.5 per trip—a discount of up to 29% off. At the same time, the free MTR connection offer by Octopus will remain in place, enabling seamless travel across Hong Kong.

“Summer is a prime season for family trips or tourists visiting Hong Kong. As the fastest and most reliable public transport connecting the airport and the city, the Airport Express has been dedicated to providing high-quality railway services to passengers and travelers over the past 27 years. Through this series of promotions, we aim to offer a convenient, fast, seamless and enjoyable travel experience by Airport Express for both locals and overseas tourists alike. We also appreciate the continued support of passengers over the years. Moving forward, the Corporation will remain committed to putting in over HK$2 billion in coming years to enhance Airport Express services, facilities, as well as key asset renewal projects to improve passengers’ travel experiences,” said Ms Jeny Yeung, Managing Director - Hong Kong Transport Services of MTR Corporation.

Passengers may now view the new Airport Express fares on the MTR website at: https://www.mtr.com.hk/ch/customer/tickets/tf_index.html.
